Four Cultural Concerts Featured At Utah Cultural Celebration Center This Winter Season

WHAT: Winter Concert Series

WHEN: November 26, 2007
December 3; 6; 18, 2007

All concerts begin at 7 p.m.

WHERE: Utah Cultural Celebration Center
1355 West 3100 South

WHO: EVERYONE is invited to the FREE Winter Concerts.

WHY: The Utah Cultural Celebration Center is proud to announce four cultural concerts as part of the third annual Winter Concert Series in 2007. Concerts feature Celtic, Hawaiian, Andean and German Christmas music at the Utah Cultural Celebration Center in West Valley City, Utah.

November 26 – Banshee in the Kitchen plays Celtic music with eclectic skill and merry abandon. The trio has delighted audiences in festivals, theaters, living rooms, and countless other venues from New York to Los Angeles. They take traditional Celtic tunes, find the sweet spot between the old and the new, then stir it all up with playfulness and exquisite musicality they term “banshee-fying”. The result is an eclectic, energetic sound all their own. www.bansheethinkitchen.com

December 3 – Salzburger Echo brings the Alps to their audiences, playing Old World and contemporary folk music from the alpine regions of Germany, Austria, and Switzerland. They continue to amaze audiences with their twelve-foot alphorns, Swiss cowbells, holzernes g'lächter and harmony yodeling. Performances in authentic costuming are musically enjoyable and visually exciting! Together since 1992, Salzburger Echo has played many venues and festivals throughout the United States and Europe. They are one of the most sought after Alpine bands in the nation. Festivals such as Oktoberfest in Mt. Angel, Oregon; Snowbird's Annual Oktoberfest (Snowbird, UT); Wurstfest in New Braunfels, Texas; Houston Oktoberfest at the Garden In The Heights, Houston, Texas; and Snake River Brewing Company Jackson, WY invite Salzburger Echo back year after year because of their energy, wit and outstanding musicianship. www.salzburgerecho.com

December 6 - Jerome Grey is a multi-talented musician, entertainer, and composer with a personality that exudes warmth, humor, and excitement. Performing with unparalleled versatility in his stage presence and ability to infuse various musical genres, including jazz, Latin, calypso, country, into his original Polynesian compositions. His unique style has been further influenced by legends such as Frank Sinatra, Jimmy Buffett, Harry Belafonte, Julio Iglesias, and Johnny Cash. Jerome traveled throughout the United States and many parts of the world, with extensive performances in Las Vegas. Jerome continues to perform and continues to inspire countless artists around the world.
